

Ahmed Smary Biography

Managing Director and Vice President of Sales, KnowledgeNet

Bringing a wealth of experience to the table, Ahmed Smary has a solid grounding in the field of information technology. Since graduating with a bachelor's degree in computer science from Sadat Academy of Management Science in 1998, his career path has seen him hold responsible positions in leading companies in the field. His role has encompassed Customer Relations Development, Sales Operations and Business Development, equipping him for the management of a dynamic company in the digital world.

Smary's involvement in many levels of the sales process over the past 20 years, along with exceptional technical knowledge, allows him exceptional insight into the dynamics of the fast-moving industry. Since joining KN in 2005, his hands-on experience in team management has also been key to his success in guiding the company on a progressive path that constantly stays abreast of new developments in the industry. Coupled with his natural ability to recognize talent in his team, while assisting the development of new skills, his managerial acumen has quickly established him as an inspirational and competent leader who has the vision to expand KN to new levels.